Paul Hyland

6th December, 2018.

Dear Mr. Hyland,

I refer to the request which you have made under the Freedom of Information Act 2014 for access to records held by the Passport Office, as follows:

Records for how many UK born citizens have applied for Irish passports since the start of 2018.

I also refer to the acknowledgement of your request which was sent to you on 16th November.

I am the Deciding Officer in this case. The Passport Office does not compile data on any other citizenships that an applicant may hold. Tracking of passport applications is in general carried out against channel of application rather than by other metrics, including country of origin. Bearing this in mind, the following general breakdown of applications will give the available detail on the number of passport applications received from Britain and Northern Ireland in 2018 to date:

Year	Britain	Northern Ireland
2018 to date*	85,180	73,583

*figures from 1st January to 31st October.

Accordingly, the Passport Office has no records of applications for Irish passports made by UK citizens. By way of explanation the Passport Office issues passports to Irish citizens who make applications for a passport. In order to meet the requirements of the Passports Act 2008, each applicant must demonstrate their Irish citizenship in their application. Entitlement to Irish citizenship is governed by Irish law and in particular the Irish Nationality and Citizenship Act 1956, as amended. Irish citizens are not prohibited from holding foreign citizenship in addition to their Irish citizenship.

I am sorry to inform you that there are no records in the Passport Office of the statistical information you are seeking and therefore I must refuse your request under Section 15 (1) (a) of the Freedom of Information (FOI) Act 2014 which states that an FOI request may be refused if:

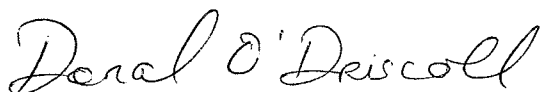

‘the record concerned does not exist or cannot be found after all reasonable steps to ascertain its whereabouts have been taken’
