28115922	Refused	FM:- There is no automatic right for non-EEA nationals who are family members of people who have been granted Temporary leave to remain, to migrate on a long-term basis to Ireland. RH:- Relationship History - Have not shown evidence of a relationship being in existence prior to visa application/marriage. You must satisfy the visa officer that the relationship is bona-fide. VR:- Previous visa refusal(s)

29771562	Refused	ID:- Insufficient documentation submitted in support of the application. The 'Guide to Supporting Documentation' on our website, www.inis.gov.ie, provides a list of the information/documents that should be submitted with each type of visa application. In the event of a refusal, the reasons therefor should also be referred to for guidance. OB:- Obligations to return to home country have not been deemed sufficient. OC:- Condition - the applicant may overstay following proposed visit. OC:- Observe the conditions of the visa; the visa sought is for a specific purpose and duration - the applicant has not satisfied the visa officer that such conditions would be observed. The onus is on applicants to provide evidence of having strong family, social and economic ties to their country of residence to assist the visa officer in determining whether or not they have sufficient obligations to return to Nigeria. In this regard, the applicant has not submitted ample evidence of her obligations. For example, the applicant has not provided the full CAC documents for her purported company which would clearly show her link to that company. Also, no evidence of the current trading status of this company has been submitted, e.g. company bank statement, tax clearance certificate, trading documents, etc. R:- No clear link to reference and sponsor has been shown. It is stated that the reference in Ireland is the applicant's uncle; it is also stated that the sponsor in Nigeria is an uncle of the applicant's fiancé. However, no evidence to prove any of these relationships has been submitted. The visa appeals officer has reviewed all documentation associated with the original visa application, as well as additional documentation submitted with the appeal. The applicant, along with their legal representative, have made numerous arguments contesting the aforementioned refusal decision and refusal reasons. However, it is noted that many of the claims made in the appeal letters, have not been adequately supported by evidentiary documentation. For example, sufficient documentation pertaining to the claimed business "Zara-Ab Multipurpose Services" has not been provided. Furthermore, the applicant has included additional documentation with the appeal, such as photographs and educational material, which are of little use and were not referenced in the initial refusal decision. Documents have also been included to establish family connections, however these documents are locally issued, of poor quality, limited in security features, easily obtainable and unreliable for this purposes of supporting the application. In light of the above, the visa appeals officer is not satisfied that sufficient evidence has been provided to warrant the original decision be overturned.

29786912	Refused	ID:- Insufficient documentation submitted in support of the application - please see link to "Documents Required" as displayed on our website - www.inis.gov.ie. For example, <ul style="list-style-type: none">- no letter of application was submitted by the applicant;- the reference states that the applicant wishes to receive religious training before taking her Religious Vows; however, she has provided no evidence of what training she has undergone so far in Nigeria, particularly as the Visa Officer notes that she states on her online application that she is 'self-employed'. INCO:- Inconsistencies, e.g. contradictions in the information supplied. The applicant's signature on her passport does not match that on her application. OC:- Observe the conditions of the visa. The visa sought is for a specific purpose and duration; the applicant has not satisfied the Visa Officer that such conditions would be observed. The visa appeals officer has reviewed all documentation associated with the original visa application, as well as submissions and additional documentation submitted in support of the appeal. The applicant has addressed the refusal decision in her appeal and refusal reasons therein. The applicant states that, due to inexperience, she forgot to include a letter of invitation, which is reasonable. She also claims that she incorrectly signed her application form, however this is less reasonable given the everyday requirements for signing documents. As a result the visa appeals officer retains concerns that a person other than the applicant may have signed the application. The visa appeals officer also notes that the applicant has indicated that she served at Tyburn monastery in 2015, by way of evidencing that she has made prior commitments towards religious devotion. She has included a letter from Tyburn Monastery, containing Abia State headed paper, but with a London address inserted into the letter. The visa appeals officer has concerns regarding this contradiction. The visa appeals officer also questions the duration and nature of this stated service at Tyburn Monastery given the applicant's claim to have been engaging in business for the past six and a half years. In light of this the visa appeals office is not satisfied that the refusal reasons have been sufficiently address to warrant the reversal of the original decision.

29928122	Refused	I regret to inform you that your application for an Irish Visa has been refused by the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service. You applied for a visa to travel to Ireland in order to enable you to join your family in the State and your application has been examined in accordance with to the 'Policy Document on Non-EEA Family Reunification' (the Policy Document) as published by the Minister and available on the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service website . The Policy Document has been prepared in accordance with public policy and in observance of constitutional, ECHR and other rights of the parties and of society in general. Your application for an Irish Visa has been refused for the following reasons: INCO:- Inconsistencies e.g. contradictions in the information supplied; A marriage certificate for the marriage of 27/02/2015 was submitted in support of this current visa application. This certificate is stamped as a "True Copy of the Original" and is dated 03/04/2017. On this certificate Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu's 'condition' at the time of the marriage on 27 February 2015 is listed as 'Divorcee'. The Visa Officer notes that on a previous application the original marriage certificate for the wedding of 27/02/2017 was submitted and on that certificate Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu's condition was listed as "bachelor". This is a clear contradiction and calls into question the authenticity of the document dated 03/04/2017. When Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu first entered the State in March 2003 he provided information to the Minister that he was married. The Visa Officer on a previous visa application noted that on the marriage certificate of 27/02/2015 the reference was listed as a bachelor. By email dated 18 April 2016 the reference was invited to comment on this apparent inconsistency and/or contradiction in the information supplied. By reply (email dated 25 April 2016) a letter from Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu (dated 22 April 2016) was submitted in which he explains that: My partner Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu was first to enter the State in 2002 and I later joined her in 2003. We are not legally married due to our culture in Nigeria. If a man and woman is in a relationship and living together and also blessed with children and both the families are aware they are considered as husband and wife (in ethnic right) that is why I ticked married in that form you are referring to in 2003, furthermore the next question in the application form page 3 asking type

of ceremony which I ticked (ethnic right) that shows clearly that I have not previously legally married.

A copy of page 3 of Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu's asylum application (this page is undated, but as Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu applied for asylum on 12 March 2003 it appears it would have been completed sometime in 2003) was also enclosed with the email dated 18 April 2016. This page shows that in response to questions concerning his marital status Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu ticked that he was 'married' and entered the date of marriage as '14-8-1999' and in response to a question about the type of ceremony ticked that it was 'ethnic rite'. Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu also indicated that as of the date he completed the form he was not divorced, separated, or widowed. Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu also completed a 'Clarification of Family Details Questionnaire' (dated 22 April 2016) and he provides the name and date of birth of his previous spouse or partner as 'Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu' and '03-07-1963'. In response to a question concerning the date of marriage he indicated 'N/A', or not applicable (although, as noted above he previously indicated to the Minister that he was married on 14 August 1999). In response to a question concerning the date of dissolution of marriage he also replied 'N/A', or not applicable. Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu, in his letter of 22 April 2016, seeks to introduce a distinction between a marriage by ethnic rite and a legal marriage. However, on the basis of the information submitted it is clear that in 2003 Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu represented to the Minister that he was married. Furthermore, the Minister relied upon and accepted his submissions on this point, for example, in an 'Examination of file under section 3 of the Immigration Act 1999' dated 28 June 2004 it is stated 'Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu is married to Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu...'. On the basis of the information submitted in support of the previous visa application it appears that Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu married Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu on 14 August 1999. No information was provided to show that that marriage was subsequently dissolved. Furthermore Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu represented to the Minister that he was married and it is clear that the Minister relied upon those representations.

For public policy reasons the Minister is not required to recognise multiple marriages. As Clark J. stated in M v. F: Polygamy is unlawful in the U.K. and Ireland and polygamous marriages are not recognised as valid marriages according to our laws. On the basis of the information submitted the Visa Officer was not satisfied in previous applications that the applicant and Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu were legally married.

As stated above, as part of the current application the applicant has submitted a marriage certificate dated 03/04/2017 that has been altered to show the reference as "divorced" at the time of the 27/02/2015 marriage. An unclear photocopy of a divorce between Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu and Gbemisola Shogbanmu has been submitted. The document is dated 20th October 2009. This document raises a number of contradictions. In previous visa application 24536962 in 2016 the reference denied that he had ever been legally married to Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu. The current submission of a 2009 divorce document in respect of the reference and Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu means that either the reference made a knowingly false declaration in the previous visa applications denying that he had been previously married, or that he had somehow forgotten that he had indeed been married to Ms Gbemisola Shogbanmu and had obtained a legal divorce from her in 2009. The Visa Officer does not find it credible that if the reference had obtained a valid divorce from his previous spouse in 2009 he would have not submitted this on the two previous applications 20173172 & 24536962 when the finding that he was still legally married to Gbemisola Shogbanmu was a primary reason for the refusal of both applications. Therefore the Visa Officer has genuine concerns that the purported divorce certificate of 20/10/2009 is a fraudulent document that has only recently been obtained. Furthermore even if it were the case that the reference had somehow forgotten that he was previously married and had obtained a divorce in 2009, which the Visa Officer does not currently accept, the Visa Officer is not satisfied as to validity of the divorce certificate for the following reasons. The visa officer notes that the Matrimonial Causes Act, Chapter 220, Laws of the Federation of Nigeria 1990 states as follows:

- (2) Proceedings for a decree-
 - (a) of dissolution of marriage; or
 - (b) of nullity of a voidable marriage; or
 - (c) of nullity of a void marriage; or
 - (d) of judicial separation; or
 - (e) of restitution of conjugal rights; or
 - (f) of jactitation of marriage, may be instituted under this Act only by a person domiciled in Nigeria.

- (3) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that a person domiciled in any State of the Federation is domiciled in Nigeria for the purposes of this Act and may institute proceedings under this Act in the High Court of any State whether or not he is domiciled in that particular State

<http://www.nigeria-law.org/Matrimonial%20Causes%20Act.htm>

Therefore it is the understanding of the Visa Officer that a petition for a dissolution of a marriage such as the marriage of 14/08/1999, can only be instituted by a person domiciled in Nigeria. On the photocopy of the document that has been submitted Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu is listed as the petitioner. From the information submitted in this and previous applications, it would appear that the reference, has been resident in Ireland for over 10 years since 12 March 2003, became a citizen on 04/07/2013, and has not been domiciled in Nigeria during that period. Therefore the Visa Officer is not satisfied that satisfactory evidence of a lawful divorce in the case of the reference's marriage to Gbemisola Shogbanmu has been submitted, and that as a result it has not been shown that that the references marriage to the applicant is valid under Nigerian law.

The Visa Officer also finds that if the document is genuine, which the Visa Officer does not currently accept, then the divorce would also seem to be invalid under Irish law. The visa officer notes that the Domicile and Recognition of Foreign Divorces Act, 1986 governs the recognition of foreign divorces that were applied for after the 2nd of October 1986. Section 5(1) provides: "For the rule of law that a divorce is recognised if granted in a country where both spouses are domiciled, there is hereby substituted a rule that a divorce shall be recognised if granted in the country where either spouse is domiciled". This means that if either spouse was domiciled in the jurisdiction granting the divorce at the date the proceedings were initiated, the divorce is entitled to recognition in Ireland. However, on the basis of the information available to this office it appears that the reference has been living in Ireland since 2003, and, taking into account his application for citizenship, and the subsequent granting of citizenship to him on 04/07/2013, the visa officer is not satisfied that evidence has been submitted which would show that the reference could be regarded as having been domiciled in Nigeria in 2019. At least not on the basis of the information submitted in support of this visa application. Similarly evidence available to the

		Visa Office would indicate that the reference's first wife was resident in Ireland not Nigeria during the period in question. Therefore the Visa Officer does not accept that the purported divorce would be recognised under Irish law. As the Visa Officer not satisfied that the applicant and Mr Tajudeen Akanni Shogbanmu are legally married I consider that no rights arise currently for consideration under the European Convention on Human Rights or under the Constitution. This decision can be appealed within 2 months of the date of this letter. 	The appeal letter addresses the previous deportation from another jurisdiction of Jesutofunmi OYEDEJI, however the letter does not address why the applicant failed to acknowledge the deportation in his online application form. As a result, the visa appeals officer is not satisfied that the applicants have presented an accurate assessment of their circumstances, or that their claims for travelling to the State are genuine.

31543652	Refused	F:- Finances:- evidence provided is deemed insufficient or incomplete. It is noted that the applicant has provided a company bank statement with his application. As this account belongs to a business rather than an individual, the visa officer cannot be satisfied that such funds are available for personal use by the applicant. While it is acknowledged that the applicant's friend has agreed to meet the costs of the trip, financial evidence is also required on behalf of the individual applicant. All applicants are required to submit their personal, up-to-date bank statement, covering a transaction period of six months, whether or not they intend to cover the costs of the trip themselves. ID:- Insufficient Documentation:- The applicant has included an employment letter from his friend and co-traveller, which is insufficient for the purposes of this application. OB:- Obligations to return to home country have not been deemed sufficient. OC:- Condition - The applicant may overstay following proposed visit. OC:- Condition - The potential cost of this trip is high in comparison to the applicant's means, and given that no compelling reasons for the trip have been displayed, the visa officer is not satisfied of your intentions to leave the State following your visit. R:- No clear link to reference has been shown. The applicant has not satisfactorily established the relationship to his sponsor.

In this regard, the applicant has not submitted ample evidence of his obligations. R:- No clear link to sponsor has been shown. It is stated that the applicant's sponsor is his father; however, no documentary evidence to prove this relationship has been submitted, e.g. applicant's birth certificate. RH:- Relationship History. The applicant has not shown evidence of a relationship being in existence prior to his marriage. Note: For immigration purposes it is not sufficient for a relationship to have developed over the internet or by telephone/sms. A relationship must include a number of face to face meetings (excluding webcam) between the parties. You must satisfy the visa officer that the relationship is bona-fide. The applicant has provided a photograph of he and his wife together, purportedly taken in 2013, and two flight e-tickets in his wife's name for 2013 and 2016 - none of these are sufficient evidence of a pre-existing relationship.
