	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Employment documents</li><li>- While you have submitted a letter from UL showing payments received for your course fees, no documentary evidence has been provided to show who paid the fees or from what account they were transferred. Our website clearly states "You must provide a copy of an Electronic Transfer of Funds (ETF) to the Irish Bank of the college, showing details of the beneficiary's name, address, bank details and the same details for sender".</li><li>- The Visa Officer is aware that the registration of births has been compulsory in Nigeria since 1992 and that the National Population Commission is responsible for such registrations. No NPC birth certificate was submitted in support of your application/relationship to your sponsor.</li></ul> F:- Finances:- evidence provided is deemed insufficient or incomplete <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- As per the INIS website you must submit an up to date six month personal bank statement, this refers to the most recent 6 months for each bank account, not 6 months combined. You have not submitted full 6 months for your Zenith account, your Access UDS account or your Access naira account.</li><li>- All bank accounts submitted must be the full, most recent 6 months. You have not submitted 6 months of your wife's bank statement.</li></ul> INCO – Inconsistencies e.g. contradictions in the information supplied. Inconsistencies in the information supplied in support of your application have been noted by the visa officer and have diminished the overall strength of your application. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- You have submitted payslips from your current employer as evidence of your income. It is noted that the salary deposits into your account are always exactly N200,000. Your payslips show no deductions at all. There is no indication of any tax or levee on your income. It is not accepted as credible that you would get exactly N200,000 with zero deductions every month. Your employment contract states that the salary of N200,000 will be subject to applicable deductions and remittances as required by law, however there is no evidence of this.</li><li>- Also your contract states your monthly salary is N200,000 and your annual salary is N2,180,000. This is not consistent, if your monthly salary is N200,000 then your annual salary should be N2.4 million annually.</li><li>- Your 2016 UK visa refusal states that you were employed at Victoria Island Hospital at the time of application, however you have not mentioned this employment on your CV.</li><li>- You applied for a UK visa to complete a test in order to become a doctor in the UK. However, as you are not currently working as a doctor in the UK, it appears that you failed the exam. Your work history appears to indicate that you change jobs regularly, one every year to two years. When combined with the inconsistencies above, the VO has doubts in relation to your qualifications and experience as a medical professional.</li></ul> OC:- Condition - The applicant may overstay following proposed visit. The Visa Officer is not yet satisfied, based on the supporting documentation submitted, that the applicant has demonstrated that the primary reason for coming to Ireland is for the purposes of study. This should be fully addressed in any appeal.

As per the INIS website any large or irregular lodgements (e.g. student loans, lodgement of Savings Certificates, the sale of a property or any similar type sources) must be fully explained. Your sponsor has submitted a written explanation for transactions in her personal and business account, however no documents have been submitted as evidence of these transactions. As well as this some of the explanations are incorrect, as she states some deposits in her personal account are from her business account but there is no record of the lump sum leaving her business account.</li><li>- It appears from the statement submitted that the sponsor has another personal account from which she transferred lump sums. This account statement was not submitted.</li><li>- Large numbers of cash lump sum deposits are visible in the account from a number of different individuals including the applicant.
